FINNS DECIDE TO NEGOTIATE

Cabinet Votes To Begin Parley with Russians, Says Member of Government.

By The Associated Press

HELSINKI, March 8—Finland's cabinet decided today to begin negotiations with Soviet Russia, a member of the government reported.

Finland is suggesting the talks be held in Moscow . No decision was announced on the makeup of the delegation that will go to the Russian capital to carry on negotiations for the treaty of cooperation sought by Prime Minister Stalin.

The cabinet member who made available this information said he could not disclose whether Finland is advising Stalin she is ready to negotiate toward a military pact as well as a friendship agreement.

Letter to Stalin

This reserve likely was due to the desire not to reveal the contents of President Juho Paasikivi's letter to Stalin before the Russian leader receives it.

When Prime Minister Stalin suggested the talks in a letter to Paasikivi dated Feb. 22 and delivered just 14 days ago, he said Russia would agree to meet here either in Helsinki or Moscow. Most Finns seem to want to hold the meetings here, but others prefer Moscow.

Stalin's proposal for a mutual assistance pact like those Russia now has with Hungary's and Romania has caused much concern. Most Finns oppose any far-reach-

With the 1948 Red Cross campaign fund going into its second week leaders and workers are hoping to reach the countywide goal of $25,985 by the end of the week, John W. Watters, campaign chairman, and the workers stated today.

The next report meeting will be held Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the chapter office at 133 West Center street. More than half, $14,074.01, remains to be subscribed if the city and county goal is reached, the chairman stated today.

Added to the services this year is the flood program which will cost an estimated $10,000,000 during the coming fiscal year This far reaching project, under which blood and its derivitives will be supplied eventually to the entire nation without charge may take five years to become fully operative. It will necessitate substantial funds for technical equipment, continued research and professional staffs, the sponsors point out. Some 20 or 30 major blood centers are scheduled to open this year and as rapidly as possible other centers will be established.

Ex-Friend's Tip Sends Fugitive Back to Jail

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 8 — A stroll into a bar here put George J. Kasunic, 33, in jail today because an ex-friend recognized him as a fugitive from Mansfield Reformatory honor camp.

Kasunic walked away from the camp 11 years ago, police said, and since served time at San Quentin in California. They said he had been free of jail about two years and that they were holding him for Mansfield authorities.

The man, now a building contractor in Los Angeles, was spotted in a bar here by an ex-friend who tipped off police, authorities said. He told police he walked away from the honor camp near Sandusky in 1936 after serving four years for burglary.

"I was a punk when I was young," he said. "I didn't know what it was to be a respectable married man. Now I do."

His wife, with four children, three by a former marriage, lives in Los Angeles. Authorities said they expected to turn the man over to the reformatory.

U. S. SOLDIER WOUNDED BY SOVIET SENTRY

Shot Following Refusal To Get Off Sidewalk in Vienna.

By The Associated Press

VIENNA, Austria, March 8—U. S. Army authorities said an American soldier was shot in the back last night after refusing to obey a Russian order to get off the sidewalk and into the gutter in front of a Russian headquarters hotel in the international district of Vienna.

The provost marshal's office said the soldier probably will lose his left arm. His name was withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The official account was as follows:

The soldier was walking with two other soldiers and three Austrian girls along a sidewalk bordering a parkway in front of the Grand hotel. A sentry ordered the soldiers into the gutter and the soldiers refused. The sentry then pushed one of the soldiers, who pushed him back. The sentry then called another sentry from inside the hotel.

The second sentry struck the American soldier with his gun, knocking him to his knees. While the soldier was still on the ground, the sentry fired a shot into his back. Another entered the soldier's arm, smashing the elbow.

The remaining soldiers—unarmed according to American military regulations — and the three girls ran to the American-occupied Bristol hotel two blocks away as the Russian fired over their heads.

When an ambulance arrived 45 minutes later, the soldier was still on the ground and the Russians had made no effort to give first aid.

Two U. S. Women Slain in Indochina

By The Associated Press

PARIS, March 8 — A French communique from Saigon announced today the slaying of two American women employed at the U. S. consulate general in Indochina.

The bodies of the women, Jeanne R. Skewes and Lydia Ruth James—were found last night in a dry river bed into which they had driven a jeep. They had been shot to death.

"The two bodies bore bullet wounds, particularly in the head," said the communique, reported by the French Press Agency.

"Before withdrawing, the attackers had set fire to the car.

"There has been no explanation of the reasons which led these two girls to such a distant spot, unfrequented by Europeans."

In Washington, the state department said it had not received any official report of the slayings.

Department records list Miss James as a 30-year-old native of Hillsdale, Ind., where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto James, now live. The department said Mrs. Skewes' husband, Lawrence E. Skewes, lives in Seattle.

Treasury Recommends Repeal Of Federal Tax on Margarine

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 8—The treasury today recommended repeal of federal taxes on oleomargarine.

Undersecretary A. Lee Wiggins told the house committee on agriculture that the present oleo taxes:

▶"Destroy the competitive position of two domestic industries," penalizing oleomargarine to aid butter.

▶Interfere with best use of national resources.

▶"Unnecessarily burden consumers far in excess of the amount paid in taxes."

Wiggins said the taxes are unimportant from a federal revenue standpoint. Collections for this and next fiscal year are estimated at about $7,000,000, he said.

But, he said, "the murder of these taxes on consumers is not adequately measured by the treasury's tax collections."

"The taxes increase the cost of the product; they interfere with the consumer's freedom of choice in satisfying personal wants; and they increase his living cost by interfering with the consumption of less expensive foods."

He said "It is the treasury's view that the federal tax should be repealed."

"Stage Setting" Considered

Dairy state congressmen threatened today to move a cow, her calf, and a farmer's daughter into the house office building.

These lawmakers from the cow country hit the roof when an exhibit proclaiming the virtues of oleomargarine was installed in the building on Capitol Hill. Rep. Andresen (R-Minn), who threatened the counter exhibit, called the oleo show "lobbying of the most supreme order."

It was all preliminary to today's opening of public hearings on 18 bills proposing that the special federal taxes on oleo be repealed. The exhibit was arranged by members of the house favoring repeal.

Uncle Sam's treasury was caught in the crossfire between butter and oleo.

It's a touchy political question.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, entered the controversy last night with a statement which declared:

"It seems so contradictory to complain about increased prices and appeal for reduction in prices of food products when, through legislation, we maintain discriminatory prices for margarine which is essential food, particularly for the masses of the people."

But Rep. Reed Murray (R-Wis) saw the situation differently.

"This margarine tax is for the general welfare of the people," the dairy state lawmaker said. "This fight against butter is an entering wedge that jeopardizes the whole dairy industry. Some people want to sell the dairy industry out to foreign cheap vegetable oils."

The tax first was imposed in 1889.

ESTRANGED HUSBAND HELD IN SHOOTING

DETROIT, March 8—Suburban River Rouge police arrested Homer Caldwell today after his 26-year-old wife was shot to death in a crowded nightclub.

The victim, red-haired Mrs. Lula Caldwell, until recently a resident of Dorton, Ky., died in a hospital Sunday night shortly after an assailant calmly fired three shots into her heart as she watched a floor show.

Her estranged husband, a 27-year-old steel worker, was arrested as he entered his rooming house this morning. He was held for questioning with no charge placed against him.

Three comedians were performing in dimly-lighted Coolidge Inn for a crowd of about 100 patrons, witnesses said, when a short, unshaven man entered the establishment.

His hat was pulled over his eyes and his coat collar turned up.

Pausing a moment at the door he then deliberately walked over to Mrs. Caldwell's table, pulled a revolver, and began firing.

Mrs. Caldwell was shot in the chest. Claude Carbelile, 22, who was nearby, was wounded in the arm and leg.

Lt. Stephen Kopsei said witnesses quoted the killer as saying before he fled:

"She's my wife and they got what was coming to them."

Man Robbed of $8,000 In Falling for Trick

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 8—A pair of men in a dark sedan tricked a collector for the Pocahontas Oil Corp. into stopping his car on a bridge today and robbed him of an estimated $8,000.

The collector, Thomas F. Conroy, 49, told police the robbers swung their car alongside and signalled as though his car had a flat tire.

When he stopped, he said, one of the men leaped out, opened his car door an thrust a gun in his ribs. Then he grabbed a paper bag containing cash and checks picked up from two Pocahontas distributing points.

Just a week ago a messenger of a bank here was robbed in similar fashion of $20,000. Those robbers have not been apprehended.

ARMY SUPERFORT IS MISSING OVER PACIFIC

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8 — An airforce Superfortress with 14 or 15 men abroad has been unreported over the Pacific since 1:34 a. m. (PST). An intensive search was under way.

The big plane was one of 10 flying from Spokane to Honolulu.

The Army air-rescue arm at Hamilton Field and the Coast Guard sent out search planes.

The missing plane last gave its position at 1:34 a. m. (PST) to the Civilian Aeronautics Administration state at Sacramento. It was to have reported again upon reaching the Farallon Islands, about 25 miles off the Golden Gate. It failed to check in and nothing has been heard since.

All other planes in the flight have reported regularly.

The planes, attached to the 326th Very Heavy Bombing Squadron, left Spokane at 9 p. m. (PST) yesterday at 10-minute intervals.

Martin Says House Will Take Vote By April 10.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 8 — Secretary of State Marshall personally urged Speaker Martin today to expedite house action on European aid.

Accompanied by Undersecretary Lovett and Lewis Douglas, U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain, the secretary visited Martin in the speaker's office.

Later, Martin said he told Marshall he believes the house will be able to act by April 10 or soon after.

While the subject of including military and other aid to China was discussed, Martin said, the main purpose of the meeting was to consider a timetable for the European recovery plan.

Debate In Second Week

The senate turned today to its second week of Marshall plan debate with a promise to "get some voting started."

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the acting Republican floor leader, added, however, he isn't too sure of a quick final vote on the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program itself.

The first voting will be on amendments to the bill.

"Of course," Wherry told reporters, "there is always the possibility many senators will want to make speeches, and that would tend to delay any final vote."

Wherry is playing a dual role in the debate. As the acting floor leader he is responsible for keeping the senate working at top speed on the measure. But he is also chairman of a Republican revisionist bloc which would like to rewrite much of the bill—a time-consuming job.

Aim at April 1

The state department long has been calling upon congress to finish its work on the recovery program by April 1.

Officials now say that date has assumed new significance because of the wave of European unrest set off by (1) the recent Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, (2) Soviet demands upon Finland and (3) prospects for a strong Communist push in the Italian elections April 18.

Senator George (D-Ga) said he does not think more than 34 votes can be mustered by the revisionists. There are 96 senators.

DE VALERA ARRIVES FOR TOUR OF U.S.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 8—American-born Eamon De Valera arrived by plane today for his first visit to this country in 18 years—in plenty of time to take part in St. Patrick's day celebrations.

Replaced after 16 years as prime minister of Eire, De Valera plans a tour of several large American cities until after April 6.

De Valera, who flew in from Shannon airport where 3,000 well-wishers saw him off, was met before dawn by an official party at LaGuardia field.

He said he believes his nation "will cooperate with other countries as far as feasible with its present national situation."

Answering a newsman's question, he said "everybody knows" the Irish people's opposition to Communism.

De Valera, who was replaced as prime minister by John Costello after last month's elections, said "I have a job on my hands to beat the opposition."

He made the remark in answer to a question, "What about affairs in Ireland?"

Asked what he believes Eire's position should be in connection with current European events, he replied:

"I am no longer in office, and I will not interfere in these matters with those now in office, with whom is the present responsibility." He followed this by his prediction of cooperation.

Told that there had been a report that he was offered the post of superintendent of a large school system in England, De Valera said "I have heard nothing about it. But I am not open now to engagements."

U. S. EXPENSE HIGH IN COUNTY

Taxpayers Here Will Pay $14,673,312 Toward Cost of U. S. Government.

COLUMBUS, O., March 8—Operations of the federal government during the fiscal year 1948-1949 will cost the residents of Marion county an estimated $14,673,312 if the Presidential budget recently submitted to congress is enacted, according to the Ohio Chamber of Commerce in a statement issued Saturday.

The cost for Ohio-at-large would be $2,296,835,100, or approximately $296 for every man, woman, and child in the state.

This amount represents the share of the proposed $39,700,000,000 Federal expenditures for the 1948-49 fiscal year which would fall upon the State's taxpayers, according to Executive Vice President Herschel C. Atkinson. The estimate is based on individual income payments to all Ohio residents, and broken down into counties, according to the estimated population of each county.

Indicative of Marion county's burden of proposed Federal spending is the disclosure that the amount $14,673,312 is approximately 16 2/5 times the local real and public utility property taxes levied for all purposes in the county for 1946, the Ohio Chamber's statistics revealed.

The amount of these local real and public utility tax levies in Marion county was $892,523, according to the analysis.

Other Counties Listed

Although federal government cost of operation in Marion county leads all neighboring counties, it is closely approached by the Crawford county burden of $11,188,800. Other cost totals are: Delaware county, $7,448,544, Hardin county, $8,311,680, Morrow county, $4,827,168, Union county, $5,978,016 and Wyandot county, $5,594,400. These estimated operation costs totals range from 13 to 20 times the 1946 total real and public utility property tax collections for all purposes made in the various counties according to the analysis.

The size of the Federal budget, and the amount of taxes collected to support it, have now become a back-home problem of tremendous importance to the Ohio taxpayer, Mr. Atkinson said.

31 Cents of Each $1

The Ohio Chamber official pointed out that the federal government now spends on the average approximately 21 cents out of each dollar of the personal income of all Ohio residents.

Ohio business leaders, Mr. Atkinson stated, are seriously concerned with the trends the nation government continues to develop in extravagant expenditures.

As a result, he said, Ohio businessmen are actively engaged with industrial leaders in a campaign throughout the nation in an effort to require the Federal government to reduce its costs wherever possible, and "to live within the means of the people who foot the bills."

Machine To Shape Metal Like Squeezing Paste Tube Invented

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 8 — Charles C. Misfeldt has invented a machine that shapes metal parts like squeezing toothpaste from a tube.

The 47-year-old engineering consultant says his invention makes possible the manufcture of parts for turbine jet engines in less time than other methods.

Misfeldt's patented process utilizes the principle of forging and extrusion methods in a continuous operation. He says he has improved on existing methods of metal shaping by combining the techniques to create a simplified hot-working method.

"Iron Age," trade publication in the iron and steel industry asserts the new process may solve many design problems metallurgists and engineers encounter when working with the newer alloys.

Misfeldt designed his machine when searching for new ways to mold complicated shapes from new alloys. The invention now will enable manufacturers to use metals that previously would not submit to shaping by forging or other processes. Metals of all types can be used in the machine.

A hydraulic plunger capable of exerting pressure up to the power of three 1,500-horsepower diesel-electro locomotives is used to force the metal into a heated mold.

Molten metal is poured into a chamber of the machine. As soon as it solidifies, the metal is squeezed through a small opening, like toothpaste, into a mold cavity. Changed by heat and terrific pressure into a mushy plastic, the metal takes the shape of the die.

Precision grinding and machining is cut to minimum operations, Misfeldt said. Misfeldt believes his process is "the newest development in shaping metal since America became production-minded at the turn of the century."

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

JIM is goodness personified, trustworthy, honorable, and competent in his work. But his mental processes are none too agile, and at my smiling query, his sad stern face registered utter bewilderment.

"Where do I think she is?" he echoed. "Why, up in our rooms where I left her."

"There's where you are very much mistaken," I told him. "She is down in the kitchen, watching her biscuits in the oven, and doing the last things to the dinner. Mrs. Ticer is helping her, and the two are getting along beautifully."

Jim looked around the room as if his legs would not hold him up.

"I guess I will sit down after all," he said.

"Please do," I said suppressing another sigh at the fast-fleeting minutes which I had intended to devote to the deflating interview with Georges which I had promised Mary. Georges was anxiously awaiting me in my father's wing—not that he expected any deflation, he simply wanted to talk about Mary.

Jim sat down heavily in the nearest chair, and his eyes reflected so many emotions that I guessed he was having difficulty in recognizing them. His stern anger still was there, but it was so modified by stark relief, bewilderment, and the reluctant admiration I had seen dawn in them a minute earlier when I told him Katie had completed her work before throwing her temper tantrum, that I took heart. Perhaps my battle would be won sooner than I thought, and with a remembrance of the simile my little mother so often used, I decided to "strike while the iron was hot."

"Jim," I said leaning forward and looking steadily at him, "if Katie were ill, had some incurable disease, you would stand by her, wouldn't you?"

"Of course," he said simply. "She's my wife."

"And you wouldn't think much of me, if after all her years of service, I turned away from her and sent her out of my life, now, would you?"

"You wouldn't do it," he said simply.

"Well, then," I finished triumphantly, "can you image me sending Katie away from here, her home, that she loves, or letting you take her away, just because she has occasional attacks of her only fault, those temper tantrums?"

"That hain't her only fault," Jim said stolidly, with an evident determination to be just at all costs. "She snoops, listens at doors. I've tried to cure her, but I just couldn't get anywhere. But those are her only two faults," he finished. "She's way up in the scale, the rest of her."

"Of course she is," I told him warmly. "And, I know all about her eavesdropping. I never have bothered about it, because I knew it was prompted only by harmless curiosity. And you and I both know that Katie would suffer any sort of torturing death before she would repeat to anybody else what she overhears."

"You're right there," Jim said. "She never has mentioned anything she heard, even to me. Not that I'd let her, if she started to," he amended hastily.

"I know that, Jim," I said. "And now, I want to ask a favor of you."

"Anything I can, Mis' Gresham," he said.

"I want you to pretend that this latest performance of Katie's never happened. She is back on her job, and I can't risk any more unpleasantness by your speaking to her before the dinner is served. And, after that, you and she have a job to do taking care of King Georges who must be hidden here—he is being pursued by his enemies—of Mr. "K." and of the guards left here. I cannot have Katie upset.

"There is something most exciting—and important—" I went on, "which my father has planned, and about which I will talk to you, to Katie and to the Tigers, all together before I go back. Now I must go up to my father's wing for an important conference with King Georges. When I left the kitchen, Katie said she would ring the dinner gong in twenty minutes. If you grant my request to forget all about this last tantrum, as I already have forgotten, will you ask her to wait another ten minutes before she rings the gong."

Presbyterian Circle Elects Mrs. Burton

Mrs. Ralph Burton was elected president of Circle 9 of the First Presbyterian church and was installed by Mrs. E. W. Warwick at a meeting of the circle Thursday night at the church. Mrs. Burton was chosen to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Mark Menzie who moved to Toledo recently. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. W. W. Rhinesmith and Mrs. Richard Wright.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Francis Field. Mrs. Robert Shackelford, vice president, presided for the meeting during which members volunteered to help in the church nursery for the next month. Those volunteering were Mrs. Shackelford, Mrs. Robert Rank, Mrs. Rupert Brown, Mrs. Lafe Phelps and Mrs. John Turner Jr. A report of the general aid was given by Mrs. Burton and a letter was read from Mrs. Menzie. Two new members, Miss Ruth Miley and Mrs. Pat DeVere, were welcomed into the group.

For the program, Mrs. Henry Mickley gave a review of the book, "Walkin' Preacher of the Ozarks." The next meeting will be with Miss Mary Kathryn Smith on Forest street.

DENIES RED TIES. Hollywood labor leader Herbert K. Sorrell (above), testifying before a house labor subcommittee in Washington, declared he had "never been a member of the Communist party." The legislators, investigating the present Hollywood movie strike, heard Sorrell declare that the trouble behind the strike began in 1934 when a movie executive "made a deal" with George Brown, the president of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes.

TAFT RETAINS STRONG LEAD

Latest Survey Report Shows Him Holding Top Spot Over Dewey.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, March 8—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio continues to hold a strong lead today over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, for prospective delegates in the race for the Republican nomination. A continuing poll of Republican leaders by International News Service shows both Taft and Dewey lost some first ballot strength since January while former Gov. Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, gained slightly. Favorite son candidates seem to plague both Taft and Dewey.

The poll, with the convention three months away, shows the following first ballot strength: (total 1094 delegates; 548 to win) Taft, 361; Dewey, 246; Stassen, 110.

In January, they stood: Taft 399; Dewey 262; Stassen 33.

One thing appears certain—it is unlikely that Dewey can win the nomination on either the first or second ballot. This was to have been the strategy of the Dewey camp. Now it would appear the Dewey forces are in for a long battle.

Chief Cause of Change

The ground lost by both Sen. Taft and Gov. Dewey since January is only on first ballot strength. It was due largely to favorite son movements in Michigan, Indiana and New Jersey.

Michigan leaders report they will cast their votes for Sen. Arthur Vandenberg despite his announced withdrawal from the presidential race. In Indiana, the Republicans now say they will vote for house leaders Charles Halleck on the first ballot. In New Jersey, Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll now appears certain of being the favorite son. The most important disclosure of the poll is that Sen. Taft continues to lead Gov. Dewey. The Taft drive, however, appears to have slowed down somewhat since last fall's spurt. His managers seem to be plugging now for second choice votes.

Other developments since January are slight Dewey gains over Taft in the South and small Stassen gains from Dewey in various sections of the country.

Await Developments

It appears many Republican leaders are holding back to see how Gov. Dewey goes in New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries and how both Sen. Taft and Gov. Dewey do in Nebraska April 13.

Top favorite son candidates are: Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, 73 delegates; Gov. Earl Warren of California, 70; Vandenberg, 41; Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Massachusetts, 35; Driscoll, 35; and Halleck, 20.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

SOME leading comrades in Soviet Russia, which wants to make the world safe for Communism steppe by steppe appear to be getting out of step themselves with Karl Marx, their apostle.

And capitalistic flyspecs keep showing up in the Red paradise of promised plenty.

Here are a few signs of the collisions between human nature and dialectical materialism which recently have annoyed the toiling proletarians of the kremlin:

(1) Moscow's Bolshoi Opera Ballet theater went over its budget by 150,000 rubles.

(2) One motion picture studio gave Hollywood an example in efficiency by spending three years making a film that is still unfinished.

Hal Boyle

(3) Finance Minister Arseny G. Zverev complained some Soviet ministries were doing a lousy job of building new factories, were lying about their accomplishments and also hoarding materials.

(4) The minister of trade, A. V. Lyubimov, has been bounced from his job for falling down on it.

(5) The education ministry bawled out Soviet scientists for studying the birth rate of spiders instead of vital agricultural problems. They also were told to quit looking for their test tubes for extraneous facts and spend more time proving Karl Marx's theories of the class struggle.

(6) THE AMERICAN military government in Berlin charged that while Soviet bigwigs were sneering at "dollar diplomacy" they were active in the German black market trying to cadge all the dollars they could in order to buy more needed goods from other countries.

(7) The Soviet youth newspaper sadly asserted that Russian young people are now dancing the khazachek in a "decadent manner."

(8) Critics lambasted leading Soviet composers for sticking to a classical style and renewed their campaign to make American jazz music less popular with the Russian masses.

(9 The Soviet army newspaper griped that too many of its marching songs were "lyrically peaceful, passive and sometimes vulgarly Philistine." It suggested that the composers get out and spend some time with the troops.

(10) Eugene Varga, top-ranking Soviet economist, was tossed out of his post for daring to express the non-Marxian belief that the capitalistic countries weren't collapsing.

(11) In Soviet Estonia the Rahva Haal newspaper regretfully noted that "many pupils go to church." It blamed this on teachers who failed "to combat such superstition with appropriate enlightment" in the Marxist-Leninist spirit.

AN ODD THING about most of these cases of Communist backsliding is that the guilty wretches come from the most favored classes in the "classless society"—the well-paid intellectuals and managers of the Soviet system.

These scholars, scientists, teachers, composers, writers and trade officials certainly by virtue of education are best qualified to understand the party's program and ideals. Yet it is they who keep getting out of step.

Perhaps the Kremlin ought to buy ouija boards and get Karl Marx's grost to explain his theories all over again. Some of the faithful are certainly mixed up now.

TWO DIE IN ACCIDENT

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., March 8—Killed in separate Montgomery county traffic accidents yesterday were Mrs. Georgia Jean Cordell, 19, of Dayton, and Luther N. Kirby, 31, of Franklin. Mrs. Cordell's car was in collision with a New York Central train and Kirby's machine with a truck.

John McClain Returns To N. Y. Newspaper

John W. McClain, newspaperman and Hollywood script writer, and a former lieutenant commander, USNR, has joined the staff of the New York Sun where he is writing a daily column under the caption, "Man about Manhattan." In Hollywood before and since World War II, he returned to New York City from the cinema capital early this year. He began his work on The Sun March 1.

Mr. McClain was a ship reporter on The Sun staff before going to Hollywood several years ago. On leave of absence for three and one-half years from MGM studios, he served with the Navy Photographic Services, office of the secretary of the Navy, and was temporarily attached to the advance headquarters of the commander in chief, U. S. Pacific fleet during the filming and production of Navy Public Release Motion Pictures.

Mr. McClain is the son of C. W. McClain of West Church street. His father returned recently from Hood River, Ore., where he spent the winter with his brother, Bert McClain and family.

OHIO WALLACE GROUP SPLITS

Break on Whether Campaign Should Be Run as Third Party.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 8—Two factions developed today among Ohio supporters of Henry A. Wallace's third party presidential bid.

Each side claimed the other wants to run the former vice-president's Ohio campaign the wrong way.

The largest faction was led by persons prominently identified with the Wallace movement since its inception in the state.

Two Akron men—John Green, United Labor party chairman, and James Thomas, Independent Labor league chairman—head the "insurgents."

It all developed yesterday from a meeting called to plot strategy for getting Wallace's name on the Ohio ballot next November.

Since newsmen were barred from the original meeting—and a later "rump" session held by the Green-Thomas group—just what happened wasn't clear.

Issue Statements

Both sides issued statements.

The regulars who formed a permanent Ohio Wallace-for-President committee yesterday—minimized the "insurgent" force.

Nathan R. Zahn, administrative director of the Wallace for President committee, said there were "only about nine or 10 members" of the Green-Thomas group. Louis Hahn, field director of the state Wallace organization, claimed the insurgents came to the meeting "in an attempt to create disruption within the Wallace committee."

"The effort failed," he asserted.

Zahn said the Akron men were not seated as delegates when the Summit county Wallace-for-President club secretary—Myron Thomas of Cuyahoga Falls—challenged their eligibility.

"We put it to a vote of the other delegates and decided not to seat them by a unanimous vote," Zahn said.

They charged the split was over the "third party" issue and accused the state committee with attempting to "railroad through" provisional officers (selected last month) as permanent officers.

"The committee in effect told us, 'If you're going to support Wallace and a third party, we're against you,'" Thomas told reporters.

Wants 3rd Party Campaign

He said the insurgents want to campaign solely as a third party. The regulars adopted a resolution yesterday permitting the backing of "liberal" Democrat or Republican candidates "who see eye-to-eye with Walace."

Green and Thomas said the insurgents walked out of the conference "after seeing how the wind blew."

Dr. Calvin S. Hall, Western Reserve university professor, was elected by the regulars as chairman of the Ohio Wallace-for-President committee.

They also set organization dues at $1 and established a goal of 100,000 signatures by June 1 on petitions to place Wallace's name on the Ohio ballot.

MARION COUNTY STUDENT AMONG HIGH IN CLASS

Miss Hazel Dobbins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robbins of the Morral-Kirkpatrick road, and a student at Baldwin-Wallace college, is being continued on the dean's list, according to word received by her parents from the office of the dean.

Miss Dobbins is a senior in the conservatory of music and will receive her bachelor of school music degree in June. She is a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music sorority and also of the Bach chorus and a cappella choir of the college.

Placement on the dean's list, is accorded to students in the highest ten per cent of the student body whose grade index is at least 3.40.

Marion Elks Still Hold Spot in Bowling Tourney

The Marion Elks five man bowling team still holds second spot in the Ohio Elks bowling meet at Lima, according to the Associated Press report on standings after the fourth weekend of competition.

The Marion Elks with 3,089 pin total and the Lima Lions club in first spot with 3,124 pins survived another week of close competition.

Two new leaders, in singles and in doubles, appeared over the weekend. J. O'Connor of Elyria took the lead in singles with a 691, one pin better than the previous leader, J. Mullin Jr., of Lakewood. In doubles R. Reed and F. Watson of Delaware hit 1,351.

Quite often these messages have mentioned that our prices for each complete funeral are plainly marked. In every casket there is a card showing the cost of the funeral if that casket is used.

Those prices include our services, equipment, use of the Funeral Home and all items or services customarily needed for a local burial. They do not include clothing, a vault or charges made by the cemetery. Nor do they include transportation if burial is at some distant point.

This method of plainly marking prices enables our patrons to know just what expense is involved in any arrangements they make. It enables them to control cost and prevents any misunderstanding.

Face Difficult Task

Meanwhile, Senator Byrd of Virginia told a radio audience that his fellow southern Democrats face a "very difficult" task in trying to stave off civil rights legislation.

In a radio interview yesterday, Byrd said the Republicans as well as the national Democratic organization are willing to "sacrifice southern traditions and institutions—and the federal constitution itself—for the presidential votes of big city pressure groups."

Byrd has been mentioned as a possible southern-backed rival to Mr. Truman at the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia in July.

There's New Glamour in the Way it Goes

TAKE the glamour of its tapered gracefulness for granted, if you will. One glance tells you it's tops.

Take an inside peek at its newly fashioned interiors — and see if you're not dazzled by the luxury that greets your eyes.

But wait — just wait — till you learn what makes this banner beauty run off with the year's high honors on the highway. Dollars to drachmas — you'll fairly itch to get in and GO!

For now your right foot commands a Fireball power plant that's as eager as a panther on the prowl — yet is so quieted in purr and pulse you barely sense its telltale throb.

Now you slip through traffic or light out cross-country as relaxed as a baby with his bottle — in a body that's bountifully big, cozily cushioned, and insulated against the usual noises of traveling.

Now you experience the first scientific system ever devised to shield a car's ride against road noise, shake and the vibrations build-up that previously took advantage of an automobile's tendency to play sound box.

Now you ride the washboard roads and cobbles as though they were carpet — thanks to coil springs all around — plus extra-low-pressure tires, carried on Buick's own wider, more stable Safety-Ride rims.

And last but best, if a Roadmaster's your choice, you can enjoy the really effortless driving — in a new kind of drive that not only frees you of gearshifting, but that doesn't even shift itself!

It's Dynaflow Drive* — a drive that's devoid of all halt, lag and hesitation through all speed ranges — because here, for the first time, the power plant itself does what gears used to do.

Fast in, you'll find the new Buick sparkling with more than a score of new advances — in ten brilliant models that span three series and give you your choice of three wheelbases and four power ratings.

So why dally? Here, certainly, is the dilly of the year for smartness and roominess — for the newest in driving ease and riding relaxation — and for all those basic bounties that are forever Buick's.

Place your order with your dealer now — whether or not you have a car to trade — and hasten the day when you'll reach those motoring heights you banker for.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

Working at Democrary

THE closing installment of Cordell Hull's thoughtful memoirs might properly be used as a text for a course in civics.

"Democracy is not a static structure like a cathedral or a skyscraper," he said. "Once erected, it cannot be expected to stand by itself from generation to generation. It is a living organism, and therefore must be cared for, guarded, nurtured and guided."

He is disturbed by the great American pastime of telling the world how good we are because we have more gadgets and conveniences than anybody else. He sees serious flaws in the American way of life—lack of broad education, lack of devotion to liberty and law, lack of participation in public affairs, lack of prudence in the handling of public money, lack of awareness of the nation's problems in international relations.

"To the old rule that one should count 10 before berating another individual," he advises, "I would add a new rule that we should count 10 hours or 10 days before berating another nation." This, coming from a man who served as secretary of state during almost 12 years of difficult foreign relations, is profound advice for a nation of name-callers. "No achievement can be higher than that of working in harmony with other nations so that the lash of war may be lifted from our backs and a peace of lasting friendship descend upon us," he declares.

One particular bit of advice stands out in the words of this conscientious public official. It is this: that the citizens of the United States should give the same degree of thought to their public affairs that they give to their private affairs—their businesses, professions and interests. All these are of only secondary importance, as would be made immediately and painfully evident if a collapse of representative democracy wiped out the right of individual citizens to pursue them under the guarantees of American freedom.

"In political and economic affairs," Mr. Hull observes, "the human race has suffered a steady decline, and it will not do to put everyone to sleep by singing of our progress in science and invention."

The function of an elder statesman in a good society is to give good advice out of his accumulated wisdom. Cordell Hull long since has qualified as an elder statesman. He has presented his good advice: if men are to enjoy the blessings of freedom they must work to deserve them—not let them be lost by default.

Federal Law for Lynch Law

CHANCES for passage of anti-lynch legislation are better this year than ever. A filibuster may be ineffectual because southern senators doubt if they can scrape up enough votes to override cloture.

Proponents of a federal law assume lynching can be prevented by enlisting the aid of federal agencies. Yet its opponents ask: "Why put such a law on the books now when the barbarous practice has become virtually nonexistent? Such a law could stir old resentments and instigate mob-minded minorities. And if such a law were adopted, would a federally impaneled jury of southerners be free of the southern bias?"

The South's opposition to anti-lynch legislation stems principally from sectional pride. Southerners are quick to point out that Tuskeegee Institute concedes that 6 of 7 potential lynchings are prevented by courageous peace officers, alert public officials and a growing public awareness that lynch law solves nothing.

End of the Long Sleep

SENTENCING of Harold Christoffel, former CIO officer, for denying under oath that he was a Communist when he was one is another incident in the turning point finally reached on the way out of the Red dilemma.

Christoffel was first accused of being a Communist by a committee of the Wisconsin legislature when he was leading the Allis-Chalmers strike in the spring of 1941. That strike, apparently called as a demonstration of ability to close up plants producing war material for Britain at a time when Russia was still Germany's ally, showed Americans something they'd never thought much about before—what could happen if a certain kind of labor leader got entrenched in a key position in a key industry.

It has taken seven long years to come to a showdown on the problem of what to do with native Reds sharpening Communist sickles on the wheels of American industry. It has taken seven years to pin on Christoffel what a committee of the Wisconson legislature suspected when he was the big man in the Allis-Chalmers strike. The country has moved slowly, hesitantly, sometimes foolishly—but it has kept moving. The Christoffels are on their way to safekeeping. They are being eased and yanked out of key positions. The government is offering them free boat rides abroad. Even Harry Bridges out in California is being visited by a CIO vice president with a view to getting rid of him. Something the federal government never could accomplish.

Cuba supplied the United States, during World War II, with more than half of the sugar received from all sources.

Cloves are dried, unopened flower buds.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Taking a Look at Presidential Politics.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S chances of election are supposed to be nil, therefore, the Democrats think in terms either of replacing him at the convention as a capitulation to Henry Wallace or of letting the election go by default to make possible a party housecleaning.

Of course, it is too early to say that Truman's election chances are nil. All sorts of things can happen to pull him out of the doldrums. The Republicans are not too smart in their political manipulations and and a world situation might arise to alter the atmosphere. The overconfidence of the Republicans may be helpful to the Democrats.

SOKOLSKY

This much can be said: Truman misunderstood his role and lost his greatest advantage. To the public, he had never been a master mind. He was regarded as a gentle, friendly, kindly, decent citizen, utterly unprepared to take over the complicated mazes that Roosevelt had engineered over a 13-year period. The public was extraordinarily sympathetic; they liked the man and his family.

Truman should have set himself to complete Roosevelt's unfinished term and that's all. He should have called in the ablest men in the country, without regard to party, to provide a national government of the highest caliber to advise and guide him through that Roosevelt maze. Instead he surrounded himself with mediocre personal cronies who for ineptitude, misunderstanding and just plain, downright dumbness have been unequaled in American history.

Then he tried the Roosevelt trick, so aptly described in Jim Farley's book, of balancing one element against another, one individual against another. It takes a Talleyrand or a Roosevelt to do that successfully. Mr. Truman lacks the cynicism, the natural capacity for falsehood, the joy of trickiness to be an adept at that art. He inevitably failed. The attempt to balance James Byrnes and Henry Wallace lost him both Byrnes and Wallace; the attempt to please the radicals of the northern big cities and to hold the southern Democrats in line smashed the New Deal amalgam which Roosevelt had so painstakingly built molecule upon molecule.

So Mr. Truman is left with few friends. The left wing of the New Deal is with Wallace; the solid South is in a political fury. Only those Democrats who have no other place to go stand by Truman; they and the labor leaders who are distressed that the Taft-Hartley bill is working so well. It is little enough to have left of the amalgam that gave Roosevelt four terms, and it ought to serve the Republicans well, if they make no mistakes.

Too Many "Me Too's"

But the Republicans are divided between men of principle and men of opportunity. And there is no gainsaying that the opportunists may not come out on top with a miserable "me too" campaign that might even elect Truman. "Me too" has been a curse since 1932.

As it now stands, these are the Republican candidates: Taft, Dewey, Vandenberg, Martin, Stassen and MacArthur. Although the contest still remains between Taft and Dewey in a see-saw of popularity among party leaders who are likely to be the delegates, the others are hard at work placing banana peels under the feet of each candidate. If all the ill-will engendered by Stassen's invasion of Ohio could work over into a general election, even Truman could defeat the Republicans.

This is a free country and anybody is free to attempt to become president of the United States. Never have the Republicans been so laden down with candidates, each of whom describes his opponents as impossible. They sort of cancel each other out. The MacArthur boom has taken on seriousness with startling suddenness, since the Hearst newspapers have come to his support. It is doubtful, however, that, with all his talents, General MacArthur can make the run from distant Tokyo.

There's a Difference

For a convention is not an election. The people have nothing to say about a convention. It is a politician's paradise, where he can work as he chooses. For instance, New York State's delegation will be solidly for Dewey until Herbert Brownell releases the delegation, if ever. That means that this huge delegation will have no MacArthur votes—nor Stassen nor Vandenberg votes—unless Dewey wants it that way—which he won't.

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

What, No Kittens from Britain?

The state department has rejected a suggestion that a million cats be shipped to Europe.

On the theory, perhaps, that they wouldn't be effective against the species of rats which have overrun Czechoslovakia?

Originally proposed as a means of conserving food through the eradication of rodents, shipping so many cats to Europe would help in other ways. Consider what a boon it would be to the continent's violin makers.

But the state department is adamant. It prefers the Marshall to the Mouser plan.

Feline-lease is out. When it comes to Europe, our diplomats will do their own pussyfooting.

Of course, it may be merely that the state department overestimates the difficulty of acquiring a million cats. The truth of the matter is that, since it requires about ten days for a boat to reach Europe, you wouldn't need more than a hundred thousand to start with.

Uncle Sam, Publisher

His Printing Office Has 30,000 Titles.

THE Government Printing Office is selling so many books on everything from babies to battles that it wants to branch out.

It hopes eventually to open up regional book stores to speed up delivery of the 30,000,000 copies of some 70,000 writings it usually has on hand.

Last year the office—rated as the world's largest publisher—turned over $3,038,377 to the Treasury from its sale of about 37,000,000 books and pamphlets.

Much of the revenue was in small coins which had to be washed in gasoline to remove the tape or glue with which they had been attached to letters.

"Infant Care," the 15-cent booklet put out by the U. S. Children's Bureau, continues to be the all-time best-seller. More than 4,000,000 copies have been sold, many to physicians.

Two more Children's Bureau books, "Prenatal Care" and "Your Child From One to Six," hold second and third place with sales of more than 3,000,000 and 2,000,000 respectively.

Right now there is a heavy demand—the printing office sold 7,000 copies in the first 10 days—for the State Department's $1 volume on "Nazi-Soviet Relations." It contains captured documents from the German Foreign Office files of 1939-41.

The trial of the major war criminals—the actual record of proceedings of the trials at Nuremberg—is another popular item, despite the cost of $50 for the 37 volumes.

Several histories of World War II campaigns and battles also are popular.

Cooks are asking for the Department of Agriculture's 40-cent basic cook book called "Aunt Sammy's Recipes" or the $1.75 Navy cook book. The latter gives recipes which serve 100 persons. It estimates, for instance, that banana fritters for 100 will require from 50 to 65 bananas but only a dozen eggs.

Virus Study Helps Check Flu

Army Moving Toward Epidemic Control.

THE Army says virus research may supply weapons for controlling virulent influenza epidemics such as ravaged the world in 1918.

Discoveries concerning virus and rickettsial diseases are being made so rapidly that many of them have not yet found their way into standard medical courses.

Recent progress in virus research was reported to Army doctors attending a course at the Army Medical Department Research and Graduate School.

In another development, the American Association for the Advancement of Science reported findings by a California scientist that malachite green, an industrial dye, may prevent reproduction of disease-causing viruses.

Medical science long has been looking for a safe chemical weapon as effective against flu, infantile paralysis and other viruses as sulfa drugs, penicillin and streptomycin are against certain bacteria.

William N. Takashashi, of the University of California at Berkeley, disclosed that malachite green in low concentrations prevents reproduction of mosaic virus in tobacco plants. He suggested that it might be useful in treatment of virus diseases generally.

The Army is primarily interested in such epidemic virus maladies as flu, a typical pneumonia and Q fever. It maintains "watch posts" in this country and overseas to keep track of them. The value of its epidemic-spotting system was demonstrated in Los Angeles last December when mysterious diseases labeled Virus X spread through the city almost overnight.

Within six days Capt. Henry Kempke, of the Army Medical Department Research and Graduate School, had demonstrated," the Army reported, "that the virus responsible for the respiratory phase of the disease lumped together as Virus X was Virus A, the same flu strain responsible for the epidemic of January, 1947.

Chances of Republican Unity

By Walter Lippmann

OF THE four elections in which the Republican party was defeated by Roosevelt, the third—that of 1940 when Wendell Willkie was the candidate—is, I think, the one which is the most instructive today. After 12 years of Republican administration and in the midst of very bad times there was nothing particularly unusual about the Democratic victories of 1932 and 1936. No Republican could have won, just as no Democrat could have won in 1920.

The 1940 conventions and the campaign took place in the darkest and most dangerous period of the war; just after the fall of France, during the Battle of Britain, and before the United States was committed. Both party conventions responded in an extraordinary way to the enormous crisis.

LIPPMANN

The Democratic party broke with the tradition which had been in effect an untouchable part of the unwritten constitution of the United States. It nominated a president for a third term. The Republican convention nominated a man who had never been in Republican politics, who eight years earlier had been active in the Democratic convention, a man who stood for the very things which the party was opposed: a supporter of the League of Nations and of aid to Britain and an opponent of isolationism.

The nomination of Willkie by the Republican convention was an admission that the Republican party's record and position did not fit the crisis of the war. But after the initial enthusiasm for Willkie, it soon transpired that he could not alter the position of his party and that therefore he could not lead it effectively. Willkie's nomination was, so to speak, superficial, not the result of a genuine change of the party's position on the American interest in the vital issues of war and peace.

Roosevelt's third election was made conceivable, then plausible, then acceptable, and finally inevitable, because it was plain not only to the Democrats but to many normally Republican voters that as a party the Republicans were unprepared to govern in the crisis of the war. There was Willkie, to be sure, but quite evidently he did not truly represent his party, and Republicans like Stimson, Austin, Wadsworth, were at best a tolerated minority.

Present Question

The question this year is whether the Republican party has been sufficiently reconditioned and realigned to do now what it was unprepared to do in 1940—to rise to the great issues of war and peace. It could happen, to be sure, that the question could be evaded if, as is not inconceivable, the Truman administration continues to disintegrate. But even if that were to happen, it would not be safe for the Republican party to evade the question. For though it might muddle through to a victory over Truman, it cannot hope to muddle through the next critical years with a party that has not been firmly united under strongly organized leadership.

The next four years will surely bring the showdown in which it is decided whether the second world war is to be settled. This could mean war. It could mean peace, it could mean neither war nor peace, but an increasing disunity and a spreading anarchy. There is no need here to labor the argument of how much depends on what this country does do and does not do, on how wisely and resolutely its power and its influence are used.

The preconvention politics of the Republican party turn upon whether the party can unite under strongly organized leadership. It is not now united. But there are two centers, two nuclei—one identified with Senator Taft and the other with Gov. Dewey—which have still to coalesce, one absorbing the other.

Broadly speaking, but nevertheless, I think, accurately, if the party organizes around Taft it will mean that its main position is still fundamentally prewar. If it organizes around Dewey, either by nominating him or, failing that, a candidate from the same political family, then it will mean that the main position of the party has changed.

Rivalries Not Deep

We can say, I believe, that the Eisenhower boom, the Stassen following, Dewey's organized strength, and the growing interest and confidence which Vandenberg arouses—are all politically related. They are the components out of which the postwar Republican party may be organized. The rivalries are not profound, being due much more to personal likes and dislikes, and to normal conflicts of ambition, than to difference of conviction and purpose.

Moreover, one may say, I think, that the core of this new party leadership is in the relationship between Dewey and Vandenburg. It would be rash to predict how this relationship will evolve. But it does look as if only they together could unite the party successfully.

It seems as certain as anything in politics can be that Taft, if nominated, could not unite the party. Conceivably the Republicans might win the election with Taft, but only because Truman was weaker than he now appears to be, not through Taft's own political strength.

There is, of course, another way by which the party could be united and confirmed in a postwar position. Instead of by Dewey, with the support of Vandenberg, it could be by Vandenberg himself with the support of Dewey.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Blizzard of '88 Again

Elmer Twitchell, charter member of Society for Perpetuating the Blizzard of ... an old northern custom, will be at the ... meeting and in old-time form. "I will ... forget that storm," he declares. "I got ... at one time between two flakes that we ... more than I did."

PHILLIPS

"How that snow piled up! My mother called me to the window and said 'Look, it's beginning to snow, Elmer.' Well, sir, before I could look out there were people caught in drifts as far as the eye could see! I remember we sent the hired man to the woodshed, only fifty yards away, for a shovel! And never saw him again until July.

"My father, who was out in the backyard, started to climb a drift on the front steps and when he got the top he was on the roof of the house yel... 'Excelsior!'

* * *

"You remember the old Aquarium. It was torn from its base and sent rolling up Broadway as far as Central Park. They had to dig it out that summer and get it back in sections. The old Gilsey House wound up over in Rahway, N. J. I had an uncle who was painting a flagpole on top of the old World Building when the storm broke. He walked from the job to City Hall Park without losing elevation.

* * *

"Remember Tony Paster's theater? Well, every act on the bill that night was blown right out of the theater. . .They found a dog and pony act frozen in the ice in Cos Cob ten days later and a ventriloquist turned up in Augusta behind a barn in New Rochelle. . My father told me of a man who drove by sleigh directly into a room on the eighth floor of the old Grand Union Hotel.

* * *

"You don't know what snowstorms are today. It was so cold in the 1888 storm that in several fires the first night women and children walked from one building to the street on the breasts of the firemen!....I remember mom bringing us hot coffee in ice picks.

* * *

"And the wind? Well, sir, it was worse than in a modern presidential campaign. Nobody had the same roof or chimney after that storm. We got a roof from the Eb Andrews barn seven miles north and a chimney from a factory up around Troy, N. Y. There wasn't a pane of glass left in a house in New York. But it didn't matter as the ice froze in the window frames and lasted all that summer and autumn.

* * *

"I lost my older brother the first night of the storm. He got hit by a flake head-on.

* * *

"Was the blizzard of 1947 in any way comparable?" we asked Mr. Twitchell.

He froze us with a look.

"That flurry!" he exclaimed.

Reminder Systems

By TRUMAN TWILL

Reminder systems are of many kinds, including the simple one of tying a piece of string around a finger and remembering what the string stands for—bring home a loaf of bread, keep an appointment with the dentist, call the plumber to repair the hot-water heater etc. The truth is, however, that no one ever ties a piece of string around his finger because that would be too easy.

Reminder systems run to more complicated procedures, such as hiring secretaries to tell their bosses it is their wives' birthday so the bosses can remind the secretaries to call the florist and have roses delivered—one for each birthday, up to two dozen.

At the other extreme, they run to the subtle dodge of reminding someone who is sure to forget to remind the reminder about something he doesn't want to remember in the first place. This shifts the blame for forgetting the whole way.

The desk-calendar business is built entirely on the demand for a system of reminding the calendar's user day by day of the commitments and promises he intended to write down so he would remember them when they fell due—a simple system, except that the user forgets to write down the important things he wanted to be reminded of.

One of the more ingenious reminder systems is based on the capacity of an ordinary hat. It consists of slips of paper stuck in the hat band if the hat is not in use, or stuffed into the crown if the hat is in use. Thus, the user can check up on himself at any given moment by consulting his hat, provided he can remember to wear it.

This resembles the pocketbook and handbag system whereby slips of paper bearing indecipherable inscriptions are stuffed away for future reference, which occurs months later and leaves the forgetter wondering what in the world was meant by "Lv. tskgb at JCK."

It is also related to the "little black notebook" system, a favorite of Men Who Matter and who note it at the drop of a suggestion by scribbling something about it in their little black notebooks—and what becomes of all that scribbling and of the little black notebooks that are sometimes in is anybody's guess.

When you stop to think about it, this is a good thing, because if people remembered half the things they are always reminding themselves not to forget they'd be too busy to do anything about them anyway.

Arch design for St. Louis.

"MUSSOLINI" ARCH SPURS CONTROVERSY — Because Eero Saarinen, Michigan architect heading a group that won $40,000 for stainless steel memorial arch design to be used in St. Louis' Jefferson national expansion park, produced a design similar to the arch proposed for a 1942 Fascist exhibition in Rome, architects are raising controversy over desirability of the structure's adoption.

Smells Like Hay, But Powder May Be Fountain of Youth

By The Associated Press

OMAHA, March 8—A green powder that tastes and smells like freshly cut hay may serve as a kind of fountain of youth for humans, says Dr. Boris Berkman of Chicago.

Dr. Berkman, a physician and plant researcher, showed the powder to the National Farm Chemurgic Council conference here.

It can be put into pills to give humans certain vitamins and proteins at low cost, he said. He believes it also may help them resist some of the degenerative disases of old age, and thus prolong the useful span of life.

The powder is chlorophyll, the green pigment in plants that takes energy from the sun to make foods out of air and water. When mixed with blood plasma, the powder turns the blood green. The green blood has been injected into dogs, but not yet into humans.

Dr. Berkman announced a new process, developed after six years work, to take the chlorophyll from plants like alfalfa, spinach, and some grasses. He said it differs from present methods in that certain proteins and fats are retained bound with the pigment. This arrangement is identical with that in the plants, he added, and the chlorophyll is biologically potent and will keep for long periods.

Y., March 6—Mrs. John Resner and Mrs. Edward Resner, 21-year-old identical twins married to brothers, gave birth within 24 hours at New Rochelle hospital to girls, it was learned today, each infant weighing exactly six pounds and five ounces and so similar they, too, appeared to be twins.

SALES TAX STAMPS TO GET "NEW LOOK"

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, March 8—Ohio's yellow sales tax stamps are on the way out. Before long, new green stamps will be in general circulation.

State Tax Commissioner C. Emory Glander said the color change is tied in with his recently announced campaign against violators of the the state sales tax law. Beyond that, Glander was silent.

"To reveal at this time how the change is involved in the campaign might jeopardize the drive," he explained.

Since the demand for one-cent stamps is the greatest, they will be the first ones to make the complete changeover to Green, Glander said.

The "new look" in stamps also will be applied to the wine and mixed beverage stamps, the tax commissioner revealed. He explained that this is in keeping with a change in the law made by the last legislature, providing that wine stamps be placed on the case instead of the bottle.

This will call for a entire new set of stamps because of a change in denominaions, while the new series will only have about 12 denominations.

Since the sales tax stamps were first issued in 1935, there have been many changes in their coloring. The first issues were printed in different colors for each denomination. Other changes have included revisions in designs.

MRS. FLORENCE HUBBARD—She named the "Walking Man."

IDENTIFIES BENNY AS "WALKING MAN"

CHICAGO, March 8—The 68-year-old widow who won the rich "walking man" radio contest Saturday night described her exciting weekend simply today as "such fun."

"I think the best part of it has been hearing from a number of friends I haven't seen in 15 years," she said. "They called up to congratulate me."

By identifying Jack Benny, radio comedian, as the mysterious "walking man," Mrs. Florence Hubbard, lingerie saleswoman in a loop department store, showered herself with prizes valued at $22,500.

She said she has not decided what to do with all the prizes. There's much too much for my three-room apartment," she said. Besides household appliances, the prizes include a cadillac automobile, airplane, trailer, and two week vacation at Sun Valley, Idaho.

The contest was sponsored by Ralph Edwards of the "Truth or Consequences" program. Rules required a statement of why "we should all support the American Heart Association," along with a contribution to the organization.

Mrs. Hubbard said she submitted 20 entries during the 10 weeks of the contest because she was "very much interested in the American Heart Association. Her husband, a physician, died of a heart ailment 10 years ago.

Edwards said contributions to the association totaled approximately $1,500,000.

Redmond Prindeville, chief deputy collector of internal revenue at Chicago, estimated Mrs. Hubbard would have to pay approximately $8,500 taxes, based on the cash value of her many prizes.

It is estimated that productivity per man-hour in the United States more than quadrupled between 1850 and 1940.

HEADS GIRLS' STATE. Mrs. Carl W. Zeller of Gibsonburg (above), Ohio American Legion auxiliary leader and historian of the National auxiliary, has been appointed director of Buckeye Girls' state for the second straight year.

This year the mythical 49th state will again be held at Capital from June 20 through June 28. The 350 girls will be a select group of high school juniors from all corners of Ohio. Immediately upon their arrival in Columbus the girls will begin a busy week of instruction, training, and application in all phases of community and state organization. The girls' staters will hear from an array of speakers prominent in Ohio political circles. In addition they will have the opportunity to visit state capitol and other government buildings.

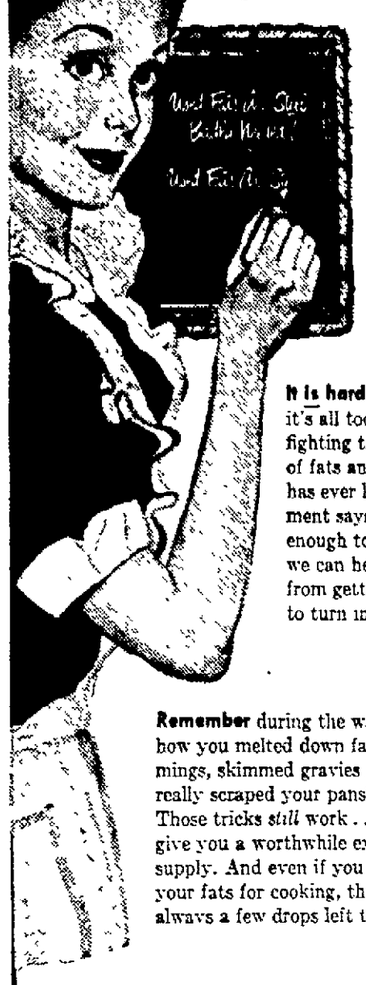
I SHOULD HAVE TO WRITE IT 100 TIMES:

"Used Fats Are Still Badly Needed!"



It is hard to realize, but it's all too true! We're still fighting the worst shortage of fats and oils the world has ever known. Our government says there simply isn't enough to go around. One way we can help keep this supply from getting even lower is to turn in our used fats.

Remember during the war, how you melted down fat trimmings, skimmed gravies . . . really scraped your pans? Those tricks still work . . . still give you a worthwhile extra supply. And even if you re-use your fats for cooking, there are always a few drops left to save.

You pick up a nice little piece of change, too . . . when you turn in your used fats, remember. They're the only kitchen waste you can turn into cash . . . and it helps, these days of high food costs. So please . . . keep saving . . .

Pope Says Rivalry For Power Prevents Order

By The Associated Press

VATICAN CITY, March 8 — Pope Pius XII says the nations' mad rivalry for power prevents the world's return to economic order.

Goods, he told a national conference on foreign trade yesterday, "have become the object of a political speculation," so has "man himself, lowered in so many cases to the status of an article for exploitation."

"We watch unhappily," he said, "the action of a policy which is only a race for power and hegemony."

His address, as often happens when he speaks on Sunday, was not released for publication until today.

Search for Three Men Missing Near Miami

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., March 8—Planes and surface craft went out again today to search for three men missing since Friday in a 16-foot boat.

While hopes for their safety dwindled hourly the Coast Guard intensified its search for Jockey Albert Snider of Miami, Donald Fraser, businessman from Toronto, Canada and C. H. (Tobe) Trotter, Miami horse trainer. A two-day search of the vast area at the southwestern corner of the Florida mainland brought no results. They were last seen at 5 p. m. Friday while fishing from a tender off the yacht Evelyn K. near Craig, Fla. At that time a sudden storm came up, with winds reaching 48 miles per hour.

AIRPORT QUESTION BEFORE CITY COUNCIL

Revision of Plans To Be Considered Tonight.

With but three pieces of legislation on the agenda for tonight, city council may be able to recess short of a two or three hour session for the first in many weeks.

Other than routine business, chief matters of import tonight appear to be granting authorization to the safety service director to have Clark, Hickey & Co. prepare a revision of airport plans, and a hearing on the request of the Marion Rapid Transit Co. to discontinue service to the Veterans Housing Project near Lincoln Park.

A proposed ordinance that would license pin-ball machines and "juke-boxes" is in the hands of the ways and means committee for study and possible revision before being given a third reading by council.

Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher indicated today that it is "very improbable" that the new airport will be completed by the end of the year. Mr. Uncapher is in Columbus today conferring with district airport engineer E. H. Schofield of the CAA and representatives of Clark, Hickey & Co. on the revision of airport plans.

Bids for construction of the airport were rejected by the city last week when TWA made an eleventh hour demand for an additional runway not included in Stage I construction plans, and other changes in present specifications.

With promised cooperation of TWA and the CAA, it is hoped that construction of the airport may begin yet this year even though completion for air service may be carried over until next spring, Mr. Uncapher said.

22 Million Visitors

THE Washington Monument, opened to the public in October, 1885, has had its 22-millionth visitor.

Nearly a million people a year take in the view of the nation's capital and vicinity from the top of the 555.5 foot monument.

Designed by Robert Mills of Charleston, S. C., the obelisk was begun in 1848 by a committee which had been formed in 1833 under the chairmanship of Chief Justice John Marshall. Many trials and one interruption which lasted 22 years prolonged the construction.

Historians say the first Washington Monument erected in this country was built in a day—July 4, 1827—by the citizens of Boonsboro, Md. This was 28 years after Gen. Washington's death, and patriotic groups everywhere were clamoring to erect memorials in his honor.

The Boonsboro monument was built of a local stone in an area overlooking the Maryland countryside, and inexpertly put together. It soon crumbled away.

Baltimore claims the honor of having built the second Washington Monument. The cornerstone for its 204-foot square shaft in Mount Vernon Place was dedicated July 4, 1815, and the statue of Washington on top was placed in 1829.

The capital boasts another memorial to Washington in the form of an equestrian statue, erected in Washington Circle and dedicated Feb. 22, 1860. Clark Mills, sculptor, depicts Washington rallying his troops at the Battle of Princeton.

The big Washington monument cost $1,187,710. The National Washington Monument Society raised $300,000 of this. The remainder was provided by congressional appropriation.

Refund If Income Levy Is Cut

By Alexander R. George

WASHINGTON—The income tax cutting bill by the house provides that the cuts become effective as of Jan. 1 of this year.

If the bill becomes a law it means that many wage earners will get substantial refunds next year on their 1948 tax withholdings. Many of these refunds would be larger than usual because tax withholdings since the first of this year have been based on the higher tax rates under the present law.

The Internal Revenue Bureau made refunds totaling $1,400,000,000 in 1947 on 1946 tax payments of some 31,000,000 persons. That's an average of about $5 person. Refunds are now being paid for overpayments of taxes on 1947 income.

Refunds on overpaid 1948 taxes would not be made until next year for two reasons:

►Until this year is ended, the total amount of refunds due various taxpayrs can not be determined.

►Payments of two refunds on one year's taxes, say one next July and the other in 1949, would be costly and troublesome for taxpayers and revenue collectors.

For taxpayers, it would mean the presenting of two claims instead of one. For revenue collectors, it would double the work as well as increasing the cost of handling refund claims and refund payments by check.

The tax reduction bill awaits action by the senate. If President Truman vetoes it, it will have to be passed by at two-third majority vote.

There have been suggestions in congress that the tax cuts be made effective July 1 instead of Jan. 1. If July 1 is the effective rate, then tax rates on 1948 incomes would be fixed at percentages half way between the present rates and the lower rates under a new law.

HARDIN CO. SETS UP CONSERVATION PLAN

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, March 8 — The Ohio Soil Conservation Commission today approved a petition by Hardin county representatives to establish a soil conservation district in that county.

A group of Hardin county agriculture leaders presented the petition containing more than 200 names to the commission today.

It was approved unanimously by the commission which cited the group for its "unusually good presentation of the necessary facts."

The aporoval clears the way for a referendum in Hardin county to elect five commissioners for the district.

The results of the county referendum will be sent to the secretary of state for approval. At that time a representative of the United States Soil Conservation Service will be appointed to assist the Hardin county group.

Columbus Woman Hurt In Delaware Co. Mishap

One injury and two accidents over the weekend, were reported today by the state highway patrol. Mrs. Ralph Williams of Columbus was injured slightly last night at 11:45 p. m. when riding north on route 42, 2½ mile northeast of Delaware, in a car driven by her husband. He was attempting to pass another car going north when his car slid off the pavement onto the soft berm, went out of control, and struck a wire fence on the James Toole farm. Mrs. Williams suffered bruises of the head.

The second minor accident occurred on route 42 in Ashley when an unidentified truck passed a car driven by Charles Cooper, 24, of 328 Reed avenue, cut back into its own lane too sharply, denting the front fender of the Cooper car and knocking off a hub cap. The truck did not stop, patrolmen said.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATION

CHRIST in You, ✝ THE HOPE of Glory

THE DIVINE YES

II Cor. 1:19. "In Christ is the 'Yes' that confirms all the promises of God."

WHAT Paul is saying here is that all the promises of God find their supreme fulfillment in Christ. In Christ, God has performed His supreme act of history. In Christ, men have seen all that God can do and all that He promised to do. Something was needed to convince men that there is a God who demands righteousness, but who, even more than that, yearns for their love—even as a father yearns for his children's love.

Something was needed to convince men that political and economic prosperity are not the chief ends of life; to demonstrate to men, in other words, that one might not have a place to lay his head, that one might even be rejected of men and yet be victorious in the sight of God. Something was needed to win men to God; not through a program of external actions but through a change of heart. That something we see supremely in Calvary.

ELDRED JOHNSTON,
Central Christian Church.

BEST SELLER AUTHOR IS GARAGE SUICIDE

By The Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., March—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Ross Lockridge Jr., 33, author of the prize-winning novel "Raintree County," who died Saturday night of carbon monoxide poisoning in the garage at his home here.

Dr. Robert E. Lyons Jr., Monroe county coroner, reported in his finding that Lockridge committed suicide.

The young author left no explanation of his action, which came as he was on the crest of success. "Raintree County," his first novel, was a Book-of-the-month club selection. It has been high on best-seller lists since publication. It won Metro Goldwyn-Mayer's $125,000 novel award and is to be made into motion picture.

Lockridge's father, Ross Lockridge Sr., said his son's seven years of work on the novel had resulted in a "complete breakdown."

"He put his whole heart into his book," the elder Lockridge said. "He was utterly exhausted."

Lockridge's body was found in his automobile in the lighted garage by his widow, Vernice. The coroner said Mrs. Lockridge told him her husband had left the house house earlier in the evening, saying he was going to mail some letters but would return to listen to a broadcast of a basketball game.

Most book reviewers praised the book, but it was attacked as plagiarism by the Rev. Alfred Barrett, Fordham university professor.

SPEAKER DISCUSSES FARMERS' PROBLEMS

Employment Agency Official Addresses Pomona Grange.

Marion county's contribution to the feeding of the world, the opportunities provided in its agricultural program and the problems faced by the farmer today were presented in an overall picture by E. R. Herring, personnel training chief for the bureau of unemployment compensation, Saturday night at a meeting of Pomona grange. Hosts for the meeting were members of Tymochtee grange. Kenneth Pangborn, Pomona master, presided for the meeting held at the grange hall west of Morral.

During a short business session it was voted to send the lecturer, Mrs. Charles Brady, to the lecturers' short course to be held at Ohio State university, Columbus, March 23-25 and the time of meetings was changed to the summer schedule of 8:30 p. m.

Cites County Figures

Mr. Herring's topic was "A Modern Land of Milk and Honey." Pointing out that there are about 1,600 farms in Marion county, consisting of an average of 147.6 acres, he gave as the greatest demand the all-around farm hand or tenant farmer who can operate machinery and who is experienced in doing farm work, but added "however, the number of requests for these workers are small." In cataloguing the farms according to census definitions he said 628 are livestock farms, 420 general farms, 122 dairy farms, 76 poultry farms and the remainder grouped into no significant classifications.

In discussing the problems faced in the agricultural field today Mr. Herring pointed out that surplus industrial labor, if there was any, is not available for farm needs, foreign laborers who were available to the American farmer at one time are not now to be had, and cited the difficulty faced by food processors. The high price of corn, wheat and other crops requiring less attention than contracted crops like sugar beets and vegetables for processing, are attracting the family farm group.

Answers Problems

Answering some of the problems, Mr. Herring outlined the general policy of the Ohio state employment service's farm placement program facilities which will include among its 12-point program the encouragement of full use of qualified local labor before aiding or encouraging the migration of workers from outside the area to meet seasonal or other peak requirements, establishment of a state farm-labor advisory council, establishment of special full-time, part-time of seasonal offices were necessary to provide effective service, plan, develop and carry out an effective information and public relations program and establish and maintain information and public relations contacts with state farm organizations, associations, cooperatives and other state and civic groups interested in agricultural economy.

COLUMBUS, March 8 — An Ohio State university survey revealed today that the average commerce graduate must work five or six years before attaining an annual salary of $4,000

However, the survey showed that the graduate's salary will continue rising until, after 30 years, 40 per cent of graduating class will be making more than $10,000

The predictions were based on the result of the first phase of a six-year career study of more than 3,000 graduated of the Ohio State College of Commerce and Administration

The study showed that advertising work was the most attractive field financially More than 20 per cent of this group attained topscale salaries of $10,000 and higher

The largest group in the lower earning brackets were secretaries, 26 1 per cent of whom were in the low-pay group Among the social and welfare workers, 20 9 per cent were in this group About 19 per cent of the low income group were clerks

Of all the commerce graduates studied, 11.4 per cent made $10,000 above 19 7 per cent made $6,000 to $10,000, 24 7 per cent $4,000 to $6,000, 29 8 per cent $2,000 to $4,000, and 11 2 per cent provided no salary information

Global Scene

By DeWitt Mackenzie

IT'S morning, but not very surprising, to hear from Frau Gertrud Scholtz-Klink Heissmeyer, fuehrer of German women in the Hitlerian era, that she is "still a Nazi—as much as ever"

Frau Heissmeyer and her husband, Maj Gen August Heissmeyer, one-time officer in Hitler's hand-picked Elite Guard, have been arrested in Wuerttemburg where they have been living under the name of Stuckebrock They are being held by the French to determine what, if any, charges shall be brought against them

The female fuehrer clenched her fist as she proclaimed to members of the press "Hitler still lives for me and my husband"

MACKENZIE

Of course that is what one would expect from a hard-boiled Nazi chieftainess Still, as remarked, it's shocking thus to be brought face to face with a harsh reminder that while Hitler is as dead as a door-nail, his totalitarian creed lives on And it persists not only in Germany but has close imitators in other countries

One of the most difficult of the Allied problems — and one of the most vital — is how to democratize Germany and make it a peaceful nation Frau Heissmeyer's attitude is that of an unnumbered host of her countrymen Most of them are more discreet—or perhaps one should say secretive—than she with their language in public, but they harbor in their hearts what she is bold enough to say

Nobody knows how many Germans still carry a picture of Hitler in their hearts The only figure I have heard was given me by the military authorities in the British zone of occupation They said the toughest group to democratize was that between the ages of 14 and 35, which Hitler had thoroughly Nazified The British point is that these folk were about lost to the allies.

THAT PLACES A TERRIFIC handicap on the Allies, for within this group are the parents of a new generation Their children are being taught democracy in the schools, and go home to have it argued out of their young minds by Nazi fathers and mothers whose influence in most cases outweighs that of strangers

One of the gravest difficulties of the Allies lies in the fact that, Nazism is anti-religious Hitler deliberately set out to destroy belief in God, after the fashion of the Communists, and he deprived many of their religion His idea, of course, was to get his people to follow him in a campaign of conquest, racial destruction and pillage which no religious person would countenance. His success was registered in the horrors of his concentration camps which not only engaged in wholesale murder but in bestial tortures.

SO THE IDEOLOGICAL de-nazing of Germany is going to take many long years, during which Allied troops will have to be maintained in the country—unless the Allies are prepared to gamble with world peace In this connection a fresh worry has developed—one which is causing concern right now in the five-nation conference in Brussels to try to effect a western European union This is the fear that the German Nazis and the Russians might join forces against the rest of Europe And that's not such a far-fetched idea. Both the Nazis and the Reds are totalitarian minded, and both are bent on conquest. The question of whether they can work together is answered when we look back to the partition of Poland between Berlin and Moscow in '39

Yes, the democratization of Germany is one of the keys to the palace of peace

Prospect St. Methodist Church Group Meets

A meeting of the WSCS of Prospect Street Methodist church was held Thursday afternoon at the church. Devotions on the subject, "Pain-Pitched Cries of God," were conducted by Mrs Moses Schrote. Plans were made for a missionary project to be conducted throughout the church at which collections will be taken to go for milk for starving children The plan was presented by Mrs Henry Maag, missionary education chairman. An announcement was made of the thankoffering to be taken at the church service April 18, and 38 calls were reported for the month of February Following the meeting, rag rugs were sold for the benefit of the society.

The program topic, "A Christian World and a New Japan," was presented by Mrs George Bechtle, and Mrs Carrie Kreis read a group of poems written by Mrs Rose Holland of near Marion. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs Fred P Haas, chairman, Mrs Albert Krautter, Mrs V. E. Goff and Mrs D E Lusch

Care for Baby With Eczema

To take care of the baby with eczema is a problem for both mother and physician. The red, scaly rash which comes with this disorder itches so intensely that it is difficult to keep the baby from scratching, and the more he scratches the worse the rash is likely to become.

The exact cause of this stubborn disorder in babies is not known but modern medicine inclines to the theory that it due to an allergy or oversensitivity usually to one or another food.

The tendency to oversensitivity is frequently inherited from one or both parents.

Thus, aside from attempts to lessen the discomfort of the rash with soothing preparations treatment is directed at finding the substance to which the baby is sensitive. The search must of necessity be on a trial-and-error basis, one food or another being taken out of the baby's diet and the results on the rash observed.

For this reason, it often happens that these youngsters are limited to a very restricted diet and since so many of them prove sensitive to cow's milk this is usually one of the first foods denied them.

Normally milk is the baby's chief protein food and today we are learning that serious results may follow its discontinuance unless protein is supplied in some other way.

Doctors have long been familiar with recurrent spells of severe illness, which seem to affect some babies with severe eczema. At these times there is a sudden gain in weight, due to a collection of fluids in the tissues and this may be followed by an equally sudden weight loss as the fluids are lost, together with listlessness, loss of appetite, diarrhea, and collapse.

Recently, it has been discovered that these symptoms are due to lack of protein in the blood and they are particularly likely to occur when milk is not employed in the diet. They are not, however due to this cause alone, but may also appear in other babies afflicted with eczema because of the widespread infection which often results from the rash. As the protein deficiency becomes worse, the child's resistance to infection is lowered still further, and so a vicious circle is established in which each condition makes the other more pronounced.

In addition to the symptoms mentioned, there may be anemia or lessening of the coloring matter of the blood, and flabby muscles.

The treatment in such cases consists of the giving of liver extract by injection into a muscle, together with injections of whole blood plasma or the fluid part of the blood, into a vein.

Because of the dangers of this protein deficiency in babies with eczema it would seem advisable that, in babies with this condition, a chemical determination of the amount of protein in the blood should be made from time to time.

Questions and Answers

E. L. What causes a person to grit his teeth when asleep?

Answer. Grinding the teeth is sometimes associated with nervousness, and the treatment for it consists in proper hygiene such as exercise, good diet, plenty of rest, and relaxation. The condition is quite common and in some cases no reason for it can be found.

A rock originally used to hold down letters for collection by passing ships is today preserved in the General Postoffice of Cape Town, South Africa.

Complaints Aimed At Doctors Who Shun Night Calls

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 8 — Many physicians do dodge the making of calls on patients in the late hours of the night or early morning.

The Journal of the American Medical Association made this assertion today in commenting on recent complaints of this nature from "many sections of the country."

Some cities, the Journal reported, have set up machinery for meeting the demands for emergency medical service 24 hours a day through a physicians' telephone exchange.

The exchange maintains a list of physicians willing to make calls at night or to respond to the calls of persons unknown to them.

"Actually comparatively few 'night calls' are so urgent that harm would result from postponing responses until morning," the journal said. "Nevertheless, the patient who suffers pain or the mother who is frightened over a condition in her child that she does not understand is little interested in explanations as to the percentage of emergency calls that are not really emergencies."

The Journal quoted the principles of ethics which read:

"A physician is free to choose whom he will serve. He should, however, always respond to any request for his assistance in an emergency or whenever temperate public opinion expects it."

Aristophanes, the playwright, was one of the earliest librarians and worked in the ancient libraries at Alexandria.

St. Mary Earns Way to Tourney Semifinals with 49-34 Win Over Pleasant

Irish Two Games Away from Title; Meet Columbus St. Mary Tomorrow

The Irish of St. Mary stand two games away from one of the two championships in the class B Central district tournament.

By defeating their county running mates, 49-34, Saturday afternoon at Westerville, the Irish became Marion county's sole representative in the district tourney.

They'll meet Columbus St. Mary tomorrow at 3 p. m. in Otterbein college's Alumni gym in the tournament semi-finals, and if they win tomorrow, they'll play either Bremen or London Friday night at 8 p. m. for the championship of the top half of the bracket. Winners of the top and lower bracket finals will represent the Central district in the regional tournament.

Start Strong

Pleasant started strong, scoring four points on a basket apiece by Mayers and Merchant while Dick Schuler garnered only one point on a foul shot. Two quick baskets by Dick Drake and Bob Stuber put the Irish ahead, but a charity toss by Merchant knotted the score and Dunbar pushed the townshippers ahead with a field goal. Baldauf tied it up 7-7 with a floor shot just before the end of the quarter.

What looked to be a close game became a one sided affair in the second stanza. The locals, led by Drake, cut loose with a scoring barrage that netted them eighteen tallies. Drake meshed three field goals, Baldauf two, Schuler a basket and two charity tosses, Bob Stuber a basket and a free throw, and Dan Smith a foul shot for the Irish. Mayers scored three baskets and Don Gorby one to account for Pleasant's eight points.

Pleasant trailed, 25-15, at halftime.

Little Doubt of Winner

After the second quarter there was little doubt as to the winner and the third and fourth periods only proved it.

The Irish offense slowed down somewhat in the third portion, with Baldauf, Drake and Smith scoring a basket apiece, and Baldauf swishing two foul shots.

Gorby, Mayers, Merchant, and Green connected for Pleasant's seven points.

Scoring of both teams picked up in the fourth period as St. Mary swished 16 and Pleasant 11. Baldauf hit for six points to lead the Irish in the last quarter, Schuler scored five, Smith, and Jim Maloney two and Joe Maniaci a free toss for the remainder of the Fettermen's points. Pleasant's markers came as a result of baskets by Mayers, Gorby Merchant and Martin and four charity tosses by Mayers, Dunbar and Naher. The game ended, 49-34 in favor of the Irish.

Baldauf Leads Scoring

Baldauf paced the Irish drive with 16 points. Schuler and Drake tied for second honors with 10 points apiece. Smith and Stuber also shadowed each other with five tallies. Joe Maniaci and Jim Maloney scored one and two points respectively.

Mayers led the losers with 14 markers followed by Gorby and Merchant with six apiece, Dunbar with five, Martin with two and Naher with one.

Dick Drake's excellent hawking of rebounds and John Baldauf's deadly eye proved to be deciding factors of the Irish victory. Charles Mayers played an outstanding game for Pleasant.

Other winners in the B tourney at Westerville Saturday were Columbus St. Mary over Granville, 58-43; London over Lancaster St. Mary, 33-30; Grove City over Newark St. Francis, 44-29; Bremen over Marengo 52-36; Marysville over Brown Township, 45-21; and Worthington over Canal Winchester, 38-34.

Martel Wins Disputed Game from Stone's, 44-41

Martel Elevator and Stone's Grill were both up for their Y.M.C.A. Thursday night league playoff game yesterday afternoon, but Martel came out the winner, 44-41, after a very close battle.

Robert Reid, manager of Stone's, filed a protest after the game, charging that an ineligible man played for Martel. The Y.M.C.A. basketball commission will meet tonight to pass verdict on the protest.

The six point lead Stone's held at the end of the half was the largest margin either team was able to make during the game.

Martel, trailing 24-18, going into the last half, came back strong and knotted up the count eight times in the third quarter.

With a minute to play, Martel led by two points when a technical foul was called on Stone's. Weir sank the shot to put the game on ice. He led the scoring parade with 20.

Johnny Hetki Bears Down for Cincy Reds

By The Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla., March 8—One fellow really bearing down in the Cincinnati Reds' training camp is Johnny Hetki, husky righthanded pitcher from Dillonvale, O.

Saturday he retired six men in a row as he tossed two innings of the first intra-squad game.

Declared Manager Johnny Neun: "Hetki really showed me something. His fast ball was alive for so early in the season and he threw a couple of curves that completely fooled the hitters. Taking off that surplus weight he carried most of the '47 campaign undoubtedly is going to help make him a much better pitcher this year."

The six-one, 200-pound thrower won only three games and lost four as he appeared in 37 contests last season.

The Reds' pilot commented, "Frankie Baumholtz, who had a great first season last year, and who should be even better this year, is our regular right fielder. Hank Sauer from Syracuse has made a fine impression and figures to stay. He probably will alternate with Augie Galan in left. The other must fight it out for the centerfield position."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

TAMPA, Fla., March 8—Impressions after a week in the baseball training camps:

Most optimistic manager—Billy Southworth of the Braves. About the only thing talkative Billy won't say is that he's sure to win the pennant.

Most uncommunicative manager—Joe McCarthy of the Red Sox. Joe never did say much and this year he says even less.

Most determined squad—The Tigers, especially the players who took pay cuts after last season.

Best check-grabber—Gabe Paul, the Reds' assistant to the president. He can act as if he really liked to do it.

Hardest-luck guy—Tom Swope, Cincinnati baseball writer, who took a day off to go fishing, got caught in the rain, took refuge on a porch and tried to pet a strange dog. That was when Tom got the only bite of the day.

HAROLD DAUGHERTY, who's getting a trial in the Detroit infield, was a freshman halfback on the 1945 Ohio State football team. He didn't play baseball in college but took it up in the army.

'Won't Win Without Me,' Stanky Informs Dodgers

By The Associated Press

BRADENTON, Fla., March 8—The Boston Braves were told today by Brooklyn Dodger Secretary Harold Parrott that Eddie Stanky made this comment after being traded to Boston Saturday: "The Dodgers will not win the pennant without me."

Boston gave up Ray Sanders, Bama Rowell and cash for the second baseman, currently bedridden with pneumonia.

Cleveland Brown End Coach To Speak at Caledonia Banquet

Cleveland Browns End Coach Dick Gallagher will be the principal speaker at a banquet March 15 honoring Caledonia High school athletes who tied LaRue for the championship of the Double X six-man football league and who won the county basketball tournament championship.

Gallagher, newest member of the coaching staff of the All America Football conference champs, will bring with him the film "The Champion Browns."

The banquet honoring Caledonia's gridders and cagers in being put on by the boys' parents—the mothers will cook and serve the meal, and the fathers are in charge of the program.

The principal speaker of the evening began his athletic career in Ironton High school, where he won letters in three sports—football, basketball and track. He went on to stardom at Kentucky Wesleyan college, and began coaching at Pedro, O., High school.

He returned to Ironton for a seven-year tenure as grid mentor in 1933 and it was while there that he became acquainted with Paul Brown and John Brickles who were high school coaching contemporaries although their teams never opposed Gallagher's.

In 1940 Gallagher accepted a coaching post at William and Mary as an assistant in football basketball and baseball. He enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and was discharged as a lieutenant commander in 1945. Following his return to William and Mary, he was elevated to head coach in baseball and basketball. He joined the Browns last year.

In the other semifinals match, Ellsworth Vines, Los Angeles, and Ed Furgol, Pontiac, Mich., oppose Dick Metz, Arkansas City, Kan., and Skip Alexander, Southern Pines, N. C.

UNCERTAINTY MARKS STEEL PRICE TREND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., March 8 — Consumers are bound to remain skeptical of price stability in the steel industry until wage negotiations are disposed of, the magazine Steel declared today.

The trade publication noted that uncertainty over the trend of prices prevails despite assurances of leading industry executives that no general advance is contemplated. Inflationary forces still are pressing steel production costs upward, the magazine added.

Steel said "most buyers with regular mill connections have been advised of their second quarter quotas, but they continue on the anxious seat fearing allotments may be cut before the quarter ends.

"This fear persists in the face of likely heavier steel production in the period, barring possible labor trouble, especially in the coal mines. The fact is, however, as the international situation looms more menacingly, there is increasing speculation as to domestic defense requirements to say nothing of European recovery needs and proposed allocation of tonnage for critical domestic requirements."

The national ingot rate advanced one point to 9.45 per cent of capacity last week, the highest level since January. The rate is equivalent to output of about 1,705,000 tons of ingots.

SAYS WIFE WASN'T IN ON $114,000 HOLDUP

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 8—David F. Almeida, confessed robber of a New Orleans bank, maintained today his pretty 31-year-old wife had no connection with the $114,000 holdup of the Hibernia National bank.

The 33-year-old ex-convict, who confessed to Federal Bureau of Investigation agents yesterday he was one of five men who robbed the bank, insisted his wife was asleep while the New Orleans robbery was planned and carried out.

Almeida said he told his wife the $23,400 he received as his share of the loot was the result of a "killing" he made in a New Orleans gambling house.

D. K. Brown special agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said Mrs. Almeida was believed to have helped plan the holdup, obtained paper bags into which the cash was scooped by the gang and assisted in dividing the loot.

Two Philadelphia detectives also were here with warrants charging Almeida with first-degree murder in the killing of Patrolman Cecil Ingling, 42, in a super-market holdup there Jan. 30, 1947. Mrs. Ameida is charged with being an accessory after the fact.

The Almeidas were arrested by FBI agents in a downtown apartment room Saturday afternoon. Brown said $20,000 of the loot was recovered in paper bags in suitcases and that two loaded revolvers also were found in the room. However, Almeida gave up without resisting when he answered a knock at the door.

They were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner H. A. Horn and held in default of $50,000 bail each for a hearing when warrants arrive from New Orleans.

Four of the five men who participated in the robbery already have been sentenced to jail terms from 20 to 35 years.

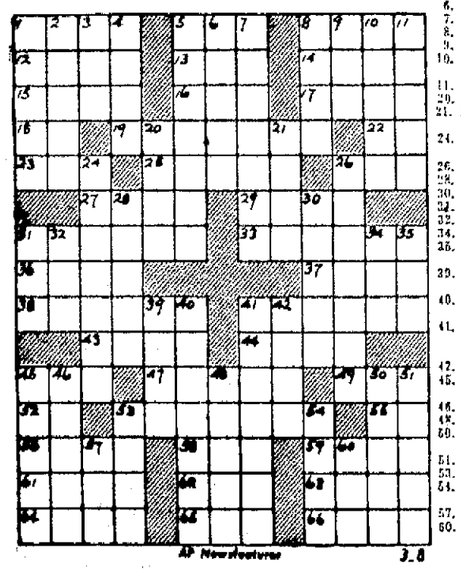
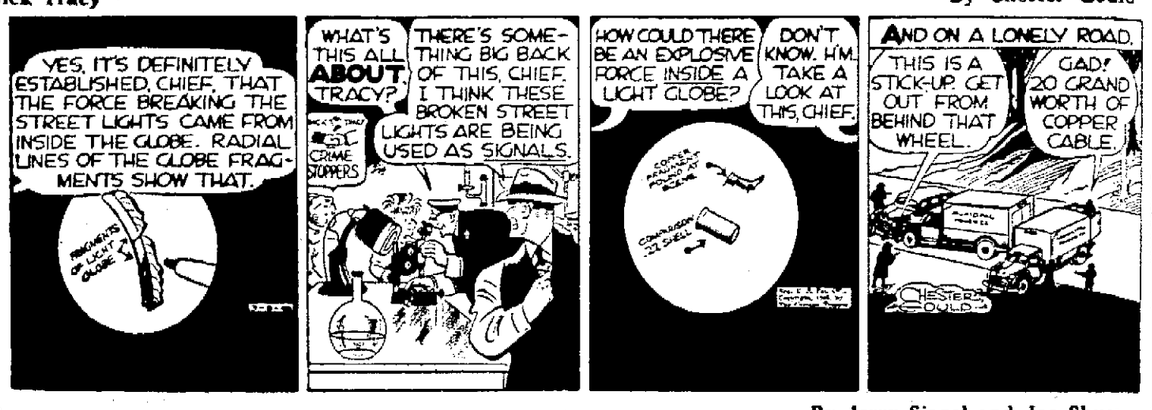
Solution Of Saturday's Puzzle



Dick Tracy By Chester Gould



YES, IT'S DEFINITELY ESTABLISHED, CHIEF, THAT THE FORCE BREAKING THE STREET LIGHTS CAME FROM INSIDE THE GLOBE. RADIAL LINES OF THE GLOBE FRAGMENTS SHOW THAT.
FRAGMENTS OF LIGHT GLOBE
WHAT'S THIS ALL ABOUT TRACY?
THERE'S SOMETHING BIG BACK OF THIS, CHIEF. I THINK THESE BROKEN STREET LIGHTS ARE BEING USED AS SIGNALS.
CRIME STOPPERS
HOW COULD THERE BE AN EXPLOSIVE FORCE INSIDE A LIGHT GLOBE?
DON'T KNOW. H'M. TAKE A LOOK AT THIS, CHIEF.
CONCUSSION SHELL
AND ON A LONELY ROAD,
THIS IS A STICK-UP. GET OUT FROM BEHIND THAT WHEEL.
GAD! 20 GRAND WORTH OF COPPER CABLE.

Superman By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shuster

JENKINS IS SO INFATUATED WITH GUN-MOLL DOTTY STORM, THAT HE WANTS TO REFORM HER INSTEAD OF TURNING HER OVER TO JUSTICE.
HA-HA! REFORM ME? GET WISE, YOU SAP! WHY, WITH YOUR CRIME-PREDICTING TALENT, WE COULD CLEAN UP PROTECTION MONEY FROM EVERY RACKET IN TOWN.
DOROTHY—HOW SHOCKING!
JENKINS IS HELPLESS BECAUSE HE'S OBVIOUSLY HAD LITTLE CONTACT WITH ATTRACTIVE WOMEN. I KNOW HIS TYPE. SHE'LL MAKE A CROOK OUT OF HIM BEFORE HE REALIZES IT, UNLESS I CAN OPEN HIS EYES.
SUPERMAN! IF YOU STILL THINK I'LL TURN DOTTY OVER TO THE POLICE—
NOW WHAT?!?
NOT AT ALL. I JUST THOUGHT YOU OUGHT TO LEARN A FEW THINGS ABOUT WOMEN...

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

* * *

In fact I hear he got a call from a man in Washington who said said "Why don't you come down, Bill? and bring your drum . . . We'll have a jam session."

* * *

The mayor said, "Jam session? I thought you were having one now!"

* * *

But there are so many musical candidates this year that Petrillo's button is being worn above the party emblem on each lapel.

* * *

One prominent citizen was discussed in committee for the nomination and rejected. He had a good military record, lots of friends and a good platform but it was discovered that he flunked clarinet as a boy.
